Whether you prefer the bumps, the straightaways, or the puddles of mud, quad riding is exhilarating. Campers entering the 6th grade or higher are eligible to participate in this activity. Each participant will receive an orientation session that reviews basic ATV operation and safe riding techniques. Before riding the quad, they will then be evaluated on their ability to control the quad and their understanding of its operation. If, determined by the Quad Riding staff, a camper can not safely operate the quad, all program fees will be refunded.

The Honda 90cc ATVs are driven on the camp's gravel oval track. Lake Greeley Camp provides helmet and eye protection. Campers must wear long pants and long-sleeved t-shirt or sweatshirt. The fee is $40.00 for each 55-minute activity period.

Your CampInTouch account will not be charged until your child has been scheduled a quad riding session. No refund will be issued if a scheduled activity period of quad riding is missed because a camper chooses to participate in another activity. Activity periods cancelled because of inclement weather will be rescheduled or refunded.
